With hardware that transcends the commonplace, New York's Hamilton Sinkler encourages luxurious living with personality.

Hamilton Sinkler designs and manufactures superior collections of contemporary and classic door and cabinet hardware and bathroom accessories. Talented designers, machinists, artisans, refinishers and hand polishers from the United States and around the world have come together to produce the finest hardware imaginable.

Traditional handcrafted fine detailing is combined with modern machining technologies and an understanding of the luxury market. This makes for stunningly original product from a unique company.

The clean cuts and precise detailing truly sets Hamilton Sinkler's products apart. Hand hammering, beading, knurling and roping are timeless arts that have been reinvigorated for today. The application of natural materials such as mother of pearl, gold, burnished silver and leather ensures that the luxuriousness is tangible as well as aesthetic.
